

RAINBOW JEWS

The Project

'Rainbow Jews' is a landmark project that records and showcases Jewish Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual and Transgender (LGBT) history from the 1950s to today. It captures the voices and experiences of Jewish LGBT people in the UK by means of oral history and archive creation. The diverse materials will be shared online, in booklets and educational resources and celebrated at the launch of the Rainbow Jews travelling exhibition at the LGBT History Month in February 2014.

Our partner organisations include: London Metropolitan Archives, LSE Hall Carpenter Archives, LGBT History Month, Keshet UK, JGLG, LGBT Excellence Centre, Leicester LGBT Centre and Rukus.
